Journal description

In a highly complex and competitive world, yet with limited resources that organizations operate in, good governance is the key to their success and long term sustainability. The Indian Journal of Corporate Governance enables companies to achieve good governance by presenting the latest research, laws and guidelines on corporate governance.

Through research articles, conceptual papers, case studies and reports the journal combines the theory and practices of corporate governance from across the world to cater to the interests of practitioners, academics, researchers and policy makers. The journal focuses on bringing out the best in corporate governance practices, strengthen board rooms and increasing effectiveness of corporate boards. Its articles on corporate social responsibility and sustainability reporting highlight how and whether interests of all stakeholders including society is being addressed.

The journal covers a wide range of corporate governance issues including

- Board composition and practices,
- Board Diversity
- Board Performance and Evaluation
- Independent directors
- Regulatory requirements
- Internal Control , fraud prevention and risk management
- Whistle blower policies
- Shareholder activism and role of Institutional Investors
- Media's role in corporate governance,
- SME governance
- Not-for – Profit Governance
- Islamic Governance
- Disclosure and reporting
- Corporate Ethics and Self Governance
- Corporate social responsibility
- Sustainability
